Where's the student art?

What happened to the mosaic in front of Hamilton School? That was the one bright spot at that abandoned school. When I drove by last week I noticed it was gone.

Wondering

EDITOR'S NOTE: According to Ruby Giese, administrative assistant for the Campbell elementary school district, the student art work had to be removed. "It seemed like every day more of it was be[ing] taken away," she explained, "It was just falling apart."

I don't understand why one person could get the most votes for the high school board post, and another person get the appointment. Doesn't sound right to me.

A Reader

EDITOR'S NOTE: One person was reportedly the top choice of the district selection committee but the committee didn't make the appointment. Their job was to pick three finalists from the applicants. The school board could then choose any of the three (which they did) or any of the other non-finalist applicants.

(Any gripes, kudos, suggestions? Call 262-2454 weekdays to sound off).

"Everytime it rains it floods," could be the motto of this stretch of Hacienda avenue east of San Tomas Aquino road. But the "flooded" signs will be a thing of the past by next spring. State funding to install new storm drains along Harriet avenue and Hacienda, from Shadle to San Tomas School, has been applied for and the city is waiting for the okay before calling for bids. According to Project Manager Dave Valkenaar, the work should be completed in March (in time for April showers). In the meantime city crews will be trying temporary measures to handle the problem.

HCD program

City plan could snag

By PAT SAFFORD

THE CITY plan for spending an estimated $1,350,000 in federal housing and community development funds in the next three years could run into some problems, a report issued last week indicated.

According to Thom McCue, city housing coordinator, the city could be flying in the face of county policy in their HCD program adopted earlier this month.

That plan earmarks $450,000 towards the acquisition and renovation of the old Campbell grammar school, $298,000 for housing rehabilitation for central Campbell and the San Tomas area, another $301,000 for public works improvements for the San Tomas area and $100,000 for low income family housing.

Under the county guideline, endorsed by the cities, including Campbell, 60 per cent of a city's funds should go to housing and housing-related programs.

ANOTHER PROBLEM is that the grammar school project may not qualify for funding. The city, in their application submitted this week, is including in the rationale those funds will be used "to prevent or eliminate slums or blight." (a category which qualifies for funding).

City councilmen have opted to spend $850,000 in HCD funds over a five year period to acquire that vacant school site for use as a senior-neighborhood center. The acquisition of the Campbell elementary school district owned property is also intended as preservation of a local historic site.

"By certifying such a large proportion of our budget for 'eliminating blight' rather than 'benefiting low-and-moderate income persons' we may be opening ourselves up to a HUD review to determine 'whether the activities proposed are plainly inappropriate to meeting the needs of the applicant because of the nature and severity of the needs of the low-and-moderate income persons in relating to the general needs. . .'" McCue reported.

IN THE HOUSING needs section of McCue's report it concludes there is currently no unmet statistical need for senior housing but there remains a substantial unmet need for family/large family housing assistance.

With the construction of 200 units of senior assisted housing by the county housing authority, Campbell will have 429 units matched against an estimated need for 258 units.

Some city officials are hoping county and federal authorities will take this into consideration when reviewing the application for funding.

THE PICTURE for family housing however, isn't so bright.

According to McCue, the estimated need for family assisted housing is 857 units while commitments exist for 195 units.

"This leaves an estimated unmet need for 662 assisted units," McCue concludes.

Broken date law suit still alive

DESPITE A setback in superior court last week Tom Horsley plans to pursue his case to the state supreme court if necessary.

The Campbell man received nationwide attention earlier this year when he sued a San Francisco waitress for $32 after she broke a date with him.

Horsley, a certified public accountant, originally sought action in a San Francisco small claims court asking for $15 auto expenses for the wasted trip to San Francisco plus $8.50 hourly for the two hour trip. The small claims judge ruled a date isn't a contract.

Horsley and his attorney, Mike Thompson of San Jose, dispute that finding.

Last week a San Francisco superior court judge denied Horsley's writ of mandate.

THE LOCAL man said Monday he plans to pursue the suit to the appelate court next and, if necessary, all the way to the state supreme court.

"We expect to get some action there," Horsley added, of the highest state court.

What does the local man hope to gain from the legal action?

Certainly not a change of heart from the young woman. Except for making several insulting remarks about Horsley before and during the small claims action, she hasn't spoken to him.

"To me the principle is the issue," declared Horsley.

A unicorn at the Campbell library? This one was created by Jul Kamen of San Jose using an old suede jacket, a moth-eaten crocheted skirt, rope rafia and a handful of junk jewelry. The San Jose textile artist and designer, shown with one of her costume creations, is one of the featured artists through December at the Campbell library. In addition to her mythological creature, Kamen will have weavings, quilts and costumes on display. Also on view at the 70 N. Central ave. library next month will be handmade felt ornaments by Kimi of Hawaii (Mrs. R. Sugi).

College may be leaving Campbell

The West Valley College district offices, located on Latimer avenue east of Winchester, will probably be moving to one of the two campuses in the future, Superintendent Jim Hardy said this week.

Right now the move is still in the staff discussion stage but the impetus was the passage of Proposition 13. That initiative wiped out the college district's taxing authority including the $16,000 yearly lease fee the college is paying for the Campbell site.

"I think it is prudent to give up this lease as soon as practical," Hardy noted.

Before that can be done replacement facilities will have to be found at either the Saratoga or Santa Clara campus.

Hardy estimates the possible date for the move as 1980 or 1981.

New Campbell plant

In the semiconductor industry.....it's the water

When you turn on the faucet in the kitchen sink to get a drink of water it's a simple process. But tap water won't do in the semiconductor industry.

This month a new $450,000 plant opened in Campbell to take care of the ultra high purity water needed to process semiconductor circuits.

Ultra Pure Systems, Inc. and Water Services Corporation, located at 1150-G Dell avenue is headed by Terry Faylor. The young president says the new Campbell plant is the first facility to provide an alternate source of pure water service in Northern California since 1976 when a Los Angeles-based firm bought out a local company.

That left a single firm serving the entire industry, Faylor says. Water Services plans to provide some competition.

Officially known as an ion-exchange regeneration facility, Water Services collects resin columns from Bay Area firms, uses a 12-15 step purification process and returns the columns. The entire purification process, using acids and caustics, takes about three hours, Faylor explained.

"Ultra high purity water is a vital necessity in the processing of semiconductor circuits," says Joel Sheinmel, vice president and general manager of Water Services. "The chemicals used to clean and etch the semiconductor devices must be removed totally by flushing with ultra high purity water in order for the device to perform properly. Contamination caused by any impurities in the water would reduce semiconductor product yield."

One of the final steps in the production of high-purity water is the passage of the water through portable tanks containing ion exchange resin which removes the final traces of contamination, Sheinmel says. Once the resin's capacity to remove ions has been reduced, it is necessary to recharge the tanks. That process is known as resin regeneration.

At present the local facility can process a maximum of 12,000 cubic feet of resin per month (working a three shift day). To translate that figure to a more understandable level, the plant can process 6,000 resin columns monthly.

"And we can easily double that capacity in 60 days if required," Faylor says.

Right now about 30,000 cubic feet of resins are regenerated monthly in the Bay Area.

Water Services Corporation would like to handle the bulk of that business and, if initial response is any indication, they might.

"The phones have been ringing off the hook since we opened," Faylor declared.

$60 million

Rosy sales tax picture

CAMPBELL CONTINUED its neck and neck race with Santa Cruz in the sales tax sweepstakes for the second quarter of 1978, a report issued by the state board of equalization revealed last week.

Total taxable sales for the quarter were $60,910,000 for Campbell compared to $60,799,000 for Santa Cruz.

In recent years the city has jumped ahead of Los Gatos, a former close competitor, who racked up $40,429,000 in taxable sales for the latest quarter. Almost half of those sales, $19.5 million, were from auto dealers and auto supply stores.

Most recently Campbell and Cupertino have been comparable in taxable sales but the Orchard City has begun to pull ahead consistently. For the second quarter Cupertino had $56,464,000 in sales, the largest share ($17.5 million) from department store sales.

LARGEST SINGLE category of taxable sales for the second quarter in Campbell was home furnishings and appliances which racked up $10.3 million. Second place goes to eating and drinking places with $7.7 million.

Other major categories included; service stations ($4.7 million), general merchandise ($3.5 million), food stores ($2.5 million) and drug stores and building materials and farm implements with $2.1 million each. Auto dealers and auto parts stores racked up $2 million.

Elizabeth Dewar, The Carousel Lady and "Sheikh" carved in 1890.

Elizabeth Dewar, "The Carousel Lady," brings part of her collection of carousel figures and carousel art to the Eureka Federal Savings office in Los Gatos from November 28 through December 1. The pieces come from merry-go-rounds that were built between 1878 and 1913. The entire collection, which has taken her years to assemble and restore, has been valued at over $100,000.

Each figure in the prized Dewar collection will be exhibited with a plaque documenting the carver, the age of the piece, where it was used, and other historical data. The Carousel Lady herself will be present to discuss the history of the American carousel, restoration techniques, and to answer your questions.

In addition to the carousel figures, Elizabeth Dewar's paintings, drawings, and her photographs of operating merry-go-rounds in the Bay Area will be exhibited at the EFS branch. For many years, The Carousel Lady was known for her portraits of purebred Arabian horses. (In fact, she sold her first painting at the age of 12.) It was her love for these magnificent animals that led her to the study of the American Carousel.

Come see The Carousel Lady at Eureka Federal Savings, 236 N. Santa Cruz Ave., Los Gatos, November 28 through December 1. On Friday, December 1, there will be FREE popcorn and root beer.

The pace is slower in friendly Canada

By GEORGE HAVILAND

They call it "Beautiful British Columbia."

We drove north this summer to visit Canada's most westerly and third largest province and came away convinced the travel brochures don't exaggerate.

We paused in Seattle enroute only long enough to ride the monorail and view a glittering city by night over dinner atop the space needle before driving the 135 miles to the border.

As we approached the international boundary — it was our first trip outside the United States — many thoughts crossed our minds. Is Canada like the U.S., or is it really a foreign country?

The border guards greeted us with a cheery "Welcome to Canada," and glanced only casually at our loaded luggage carrier. After showing identification papers and answering "No" to the question of firearms, we were waved on with a friendly smile.

As we headed east toward Vancouver, we were treated to new and wondrous vistas of virgin timberlands, rolling hills and green pastures at every turn. Quaint towns and villages dotted the two-lane highway, exciting the imagination.

At Surrey, 15 miles from Vancouver, we checked into a motel with kitchen, bath and TV — $55 for seven days, plus hotel tax. Surprisingly reasonable, we thought, for an area considered a "tourist trap."

We ad no sooner unloaded our car and got inside the motel when a local resident who noticed our California license plate knocked on the door to say hello and wish us a pleasant visit.

As our knowledge of Canadian history is quite limited, we planned to see as many landmarks as we had time for. One of the most intriguing was Fort Langley in the picturesque village of Fort Langley on the south bank of the Fraser river.

Built in 1827, the fort was part of a network of trading posts established by the Hudson's Bay Company. It also served as headquarters for a company of British army officers and it was here, we learned, that British Columbia was declared a Crown Colony in 1858.

The fort has been restored to its previous condition, and its reconstructed palisade, buildings and authentic furnishings allow the visitor a glimpse into Canada's pioneering past. Ancient artillery which once defended the fort against hostile Indians can be seen there.

We set aside an entire day for exploring the beautiful port city of Vancouver. In a setting of Mountains, forests, rivers, ocean and harbor, we found it a thriving metropolis with modern high-rise buildings that stood like giant monoliths against the blue sky.

Strolling the streets in Gastown, the site of the city's beginnings near the downtown section, was an absorbing experience. Descendants of some of the earliest settlers, who were fur traders, gold prospectors and Orientals — the latter brought in to build the first railroads — still live there.

Gastown now has brick-inlaid streets laced on either side with refurbished hotels, antique shops, boutiques and diversified restaurants. We spent some time browsing in a flea market dating back to the 1800's.

After eating dinner in nearby Chinatown, second only to San Francisco's in population, it was too late to visit 1000-acre Stanley park just north of Vancouver to see its world famous rose garden, totem display, and take the waterfront drive.

Bus package tours of all these attractions, and more, are available for as little as six dollars for three and a half hours. An all-day tour through Fraser canyon and the lush farmlands of Fraser valley east of Vancouver cost $17, probably cheaper than going by auto.

As we drove around, our conception of Canada as a completely foreign country began to fade — at least as far as British Columbia was concerned. The British, French and American influence were clearly evident everywhere.

We picnicked in Queen Elizabeth park, snacked at American fast food shops, purchased items labeled in both English and French, and our motel was on the King George highway.

A dollars and cents currency made us feel at home, though the value of the U.S. dollar fluctuated from day to day, and sometimes we had to pay as much as an extra 10 cents on a dollar purchase.

Inflation is a big problem, too. We bought groceries in Surrey and adjoining New Westminster, paying 10 to 15 cents above the price of the same item in a local xsupermarkets. For fresh fruits and vegetables, we shopped at farmers' markets in the country.

To escape the high cost of dining out, we cooked most of our meals in the motel, though a few times we ate lunchout.

Of course, there is much more to see and do in British Columbia than our brief stay permitted, but we did learn something about our northern neighbors.

Surrounded by some of the most spectacular scenery in the world, they are a warm and friendly people, with a lifestyle much slower paced than ours — perhaps the most lasting impression of our Candian adventure.

DINING GUIDE

as recommended by Bea René

DINING OUT (Yet Diet, too!) . . .

Many so-called specialists write about how to perform this miracle - restaurant dining can be costly in the calorie department . . . but not always . . . there are a few tricks that can aid one in maintaining the proper weight, especially after having diligently dieted to the exact proportions & weight one wishes to keep. First: keep your bathroom scales handy for "weighing in" every morning . . . Second: Set a "perfect" weight for "you," & if you should deviate over this mark, it's time to cut back & exercise drastically for a few days (at least this is my formula) . . . Third: If you would rather enjoy a "3 Martini Lunch," skip dinner - conversation can be fulfilling enough - . . . vice versa for a big dinner planned, then skip lunch . . . Order chicken or seafood sans sauce, instead of a juicy marbled steak - together with a green salad (order salad dressing on the side - dipping into this instead of pouring all over will save you about half the calorie content) . . . drink lots of water & if you must order a cocktail, drink white wine like 100 million other Americans (it also drives the bartenders crazy) . . . and, oh yes, eat slowly (simply talk up a storm thruout dinner - then send your plate away with only half the food eaten - it really works) . . . Of course, you may lose your b.f. along with your tummy - but that's the price we have to pay!

DID YOU KNOW that spaghetti sauce simmered for 3 hrs. in an "iron" pot contains almost 30 times more iron than when cooked in something else?? Even eggs scrambled in an iron skillet contain more than twice as much iron as when cooked in other types of metal pans . . .

Shirley Temple Black recently walked into THE ONION BARN restaurant with husband Charles Black, & was surprised & delighted to see owner, "Alex," who she knew when she was Ambassador to Ghana, where Alex owned a restaurant . . . small world! . . . Eloida & Lou Torres owners of PRIME RIB INN, remember the 1964 Alaskan earthquake, since it occurred when they were operating their Anchorage restaurant, LA CABANA (personable waiter Rocky was with them also). They & their family were unhurt, & they still own & operate the Anchorage restaurant. So when passing thru Anchorage, stop by - you'll see old friend "Marcel" there, who formerly managed The Bullfighter Inn . . . THE BARBAROSSA serves the new French La Nouvelle cuisine as served at the MARK HOPKINS . . . High-rise dining in Palo Alto can be found at LA TOUR, serving French cuisine by Vietnamese waiters & waitresses . . . The BELTRAUMO'S super cocktail lounge has disappeared - along with personable, handsome, everybody's friend, Joe Moreno, our bartender, who now presides at DE MARTINI'S in Foster City - personally I don't like that big barren, wine room that Beltraumo's has added instead - looks like a super market! . . . Handsome George Ralda who works in Food & Beverage at the MARK HOPKINS, also acts as Maitre d' at the new NAUTILUS at PIER 39 (a gourment restaurant).

The best flea market yet

EDITOR:

This note is a follow-up to thank you once again for the help you gave us in publicity for our Camden PTA Flea Market. It occurred to me that the people who helped us might be interested in learning the results of our sale.

We did better this year with our Flea Market than ever before in both booth sales and in food sales. We earned around $375 and feel that it was due, in part, to the help that you gave us.

This money will be going into our scholarship fund for graduating seniors for 1979. The kids may not know of your individual help to them, but we surely do. You are a good friend of our school.

Superintendent's report

Two high schools could be closing

BY THE 1980-81 school year the Campbell Union High School District will need only six of its eight high schools, Superintendent Nicholas Montesano told trustees at a recent board session.

The problem of declining enrollment which has caused the closing of several elementary schools in recent years, is now being felt on the high school level.

From a top student enrollment of 14,774 in 1973, district enrollment fell to 12,671 this year. By 1981-82 those figures are expected to drop to 9,763.

The final decision on whether or not to close school sites or which schools to close is up to the school board but they are being aided this year through advisory councils at each school. These groups are drawing up criteria the district should use in tackling that knotty issue.

ALL EIGHT schools could remain open in the face of a shrinking student population, Montesano told trustees. But there would be a major effect in three areas.

- Less flexibility in school programs and a lowering of the quality of education. With less students per school it becomes harder to provide elective courses. It is also harder to assign teachers to classes in their major fields of study.
- Fewer students mean fewer school activities. With less students there are less young people to work in activities and less student body funds. And with a smaller staff it is more difficult to find teachers qualified to supervise activities.
- Operating an unneeded school site costs at least $500,000 a year.

"Closing a school is a major decision that involves the whole community," Board President Ray Silva said. "For that reason the trustees seek an input of ideas from citizens throughout the community."

THE ADVISORY councils, made up of principals, parent, student and teacher representatives, will be giving the board some of those ideas.

Already suggested as possible criteria is the age of school buildings, operating and maintenance costs, possible conversion of buildings to other uses and the availability of another school to accommodate students moving from a closed site.

Increase in three districts

Enrollment down in area schools

SCHOOL CLOSINGS ARE on the agenda in at least half a dozen area school districts this year. A new survey by the Milpitas POST and San Jose SUN shows an increasing number of districts are turning to the closings as a way to cope with declining enrollment.

Only three districts among those surveyed around the area are reporting an increase in enrollment this year. Evergreen, Morgan Hill and East Side High school districts all say more students showed up this year than last. In fact, all three are considering expansion of schools to cope with growth.

But everywhere else, the story is one of declining enrollment in districts which until a few years ago were scrambling to keep up with growth.

Older families without school-age children and declining family size are the reasons most often cited for the decline in enrollment.

Despite a rapid homebuilding pace in the community, school enrollment in Milpitas has declined again. From a 1972 high of 10,393, enrollment is now down to 8,865. For next year, the outlook is for another drop of 300 students.

Two years ago, Milpitas closed Abel School. But it has no current plans to close others. Under consideration, though, is a plan to move the continuation high school to the Abel School site and the district office elsewhere.

SAN JOSE UNIFIED

More than 1,000 fewer students in San Jose Unified, a drop of three per cent. Still, the district says it has no plans to close schools. Enrollment is declining fastest in the older areas of the district in north and central San Jose.

ALUM ROCK

Enrollment has dropped in Alum Rock almost every year since 1970. Second largest of the elementary school districts in San Jose, it has 25 schools. One, Richard Conniff, was closed. Until now, though, the district has staved off further closings by an imaginative plan to use classrooms and parts of schools for other purposes. Enrollment is down 500 this year, including 130 fewer students at Sheppard School and 140 at Meyer.

BERRYESSA

Just four years ago, Berryessa had signs on its school grounds warning prospective homeowners that schools were on double sessions. Now the enrollment plunge has hit here, too. For the first time in 15 years, the district has reported total enrollment down. It's dropped 200 students to 9,761.

EVERGREEN

Enrollment is up in Evergreen and the school board is looking at a site for another school between Quimby and Norwood Avenues. Lots of room left to grow in this district which is dramatically affected by each turn in city housing policies. As of this year, there are 5,963 students filling Evergreen's 10 schools to the limit.

FRANKLIN-McKINLEY

Wildly fluctuating enrollment patterns in this district have left planners scratching their heads. Enrollment was up in 1973, down the next year, up in 1975 and down in 1976. Older areas of the district are reporting declines while newer areas are reporting growth. This year, enrollment is up two percent to 6,889 students.

MT. PLEASANT

One school is expected to be closed next year in Mt. Pleasant as enrollment continues downward. In 1973, two schools were merged into one and other steps have been taken to adjust to a shrinking student population. Enrollment is down to about 2,600 students.

MORGAN HILL

Part of south San Jose is in this still growing district, which went up by 248 students this year. Two elementary schools are opening and a new junior high under construction for the district.

OAK GROVE

Growth has slowed here and enrollment is down about 500 students from what had been expected. The trend will continue, but it will be some time before the district is faced with closing schools since many are now over their capacity.

ORCHARD

Enrollment is staying just under 300 students in this one-school district tucked into a north San Jose industrial area.

CAMBRIAN

Enrollment has been declining steadily here for a decade and is expected to continue falling for the years ahead. District has been closing schools and laying off teachers. One school closes this year and another next.

UNION

Four or five schools are expected to close in Union over the next five years. Board meetings all this fall have considered the topic.

CAMPBELL HIGH

For the first time, there is talk of closing schools in Campbell High School District. Enrollment declined last year and this, including a six per cent drop this fall.

EAST SIDE HIGH

One of the few where enrollment is up, East Side High school district is building on to several schools to cope with growing student numbers. This year, more than 21,000 students showed up. Independence, the district's newest high school, is built for an eventual student population of about 5,000 students.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Contributing to this survey were Leslie Raffensperger, Sue Barnard, Elizabeth Fernandez, Pat Safford, Lisa Meredith-Coker, Donna Pomeroy, Mary Gerbino and Tom Gilsenan.

Consumers corner

By SLIM INGHAM

We tried to take our Firestone tires back to the dealer with hopes that they would honor the recall. After a two hour wait and inspection of our tires, the dealer stated that the steel belts were "rusty" and it was somehow our fault. The steel belts were exposed because the two front tires were coming apart. We were then told that replacements weren't available under the recall but "if we felt we must have tires," he offered to sell us some. I won't ever enter a Firestone store again except to get my recall replacement tires through the small claims court case we just filed. Thank you, Consumers United, for your help in case preparation.

Mrs. J. Sen Yung
Mountain View

This letter is somewhat typical of the numerous reports we have received regarding the reluctance of some Firestone dealers to honor the terms of the recall. We do advise that the small claims court be used as an affordable way of making the Firestone Company and its franchised dealers adhere to the expressed terms of the recall. They may by this time have lost the public trust for years to come.

We have had a homeowners' policy with the Fireman's Fund Insurance Company for over seven years and several thousand dollars in premiums. Last week, we received a cancellation of policy notice based on "excessive claims." These "excesses" amounted to the grand sum of $97 over the seven-year period we have had the policy. We consider this to be unfair in the extreme and wonder if anything can be done to reverse this decision or have any legalities been breached by this company's action?

Mr. and Mrs.
E. Martino
Cupertino

The Insurance Commissioner's office advises that this is commonplace with many insurance companies and recommendations for legislation to prohibit the practice are currently "in the works."

Our lawyers advise that you have a case for reinstatement of your policy if you can show that the actions of Fireman's Fund have caused you to pay a higher than usual premium for the same coverage from another insurance company. Another argument for reinstatement is the fact that the cancellation or failure to renew is beyond the boundaries of normal and ethical business practices. The lawyers also suggest that you issue a letter of demand to Fireman's Fund for reinstatement and if their response is not satisfactory, to make it a small claims court issue. Insurance companies are vulnerable in court for obvious reasons.

We were cooperative, says Coast Oil about the several cases one day last month in which gas was inadvertently mixed with water. Complete payment for car repairs are in the works from the supplier, Texaco. Texaco could have been speedier, concedes Jerry Cummings, Coast Oil retail manager. But lawsuits were totally unnecessary. It was just a matter of processing paper work.

College registration time

ADVANCE registration for continuing students enrolling for spring semester 1979 runs from now through Friday, December 8 at San Jose State University.

Registration fees for those students taking advantage of advance registration must be paid by January 5, according to registration officer Doug Hartshorn. Payment on or before that date may be returned by mail or taken in person to the cashier's office in the Administration Building at Seventh and San Fernando streets.

The new Schedule of Classes is on sale for 50 cents in the Spartan Bookstore on campus.

Class request forms, which will be mailed to students, must be turned in to faculty advisors by December 7. Advance registration students are encouraged to make appointments with their faculty advisors well in advance of December 7 to avoid a last-minute rush.

Around December 22, the programs of classes reserved by the computer will be mailed to students along with fee payment cards which should be returned with check or money order to the cashier's office.

And now for your listening pleasure

By TOM GILSEÑAN

Turn on the radio and you'll find a little bit of everything. There are dozens of radio stations which can be heard in San Jose, beamed from all over the Bay Area.

Here's a guide to help you discover or rediscover what you'll find on AM RADIO.

KSFO 560
Middle of the road music with a heavy emphasis on personalities. Evenings you can hear radio drama and an endless saga of the history of pop music.

KFRC 610
Top 40 format with disc jockeys who shout and scream.

KNBR 680
The folks with those little fake license plates, this NBC station has a middle of the road format with personalities similar to KSFO.

KCBS 740
News, news, and more news 24 hours a day. In recent months, the station has lightened its format a little, allowing more features to complement the serious stuff.

KGO 810
They've got lots of news too and in between a chance to talk about it. During the Prop. 13 campaign, KGO was a key spot for electronic debate on the merits of the initiative.

KNEW 910
Country and western — if you only knew.

KABL 960
Middle of the road music, good for background. It's one of the few stations which bills itself as broadcasting in Oakland.

KCTY 980
A Spanish-language station which bills itself as "traditional Mexican" in its music.

KKIS 990
Another background music station with lots of string orchestras.

KIQI 1010
You may not recognize the call letters, since this station is billed almost exclusively as K-101 along with its sister station on the FM side. Adult contemporary format.

KOFY 1050
Radio KOFY (like coffee) is the way this Spanish-language station bills itself. It's one of three major stations beaming in Spanish.

KFAX 1100
Steady diet of religious programming.

KLOK 1170
Adult contemporary format. Resurrected from a sleepy religious format, KLOK soared on its all flashback format, then settled into its current mix of old and new pop and rock.

KIBE 1220
Classical music

KYA 1260
Another adult contemporary like KLOK and K-101. This station has been aggressive in recent months, playing long segments without commercials and sending thousands of little stickers out through the mail to get people's attention.

KAZA 1290
Spanish language station

KDIA 1310
Rhythm and blues from this station aimed at black listeners.

KEEN 1370
Country and western

KTOM 1380
Country again, though the station calls it "modern"

KRE 1400
On the AM side, this is the station with the most jazz. Rhythm and blues also a specialty.

KNTA 1430
Third of the big Spanish-language stations in the Bay Area.

KXRX 1500
"News and talk for the Santa Clara Valley" is how they bill themselves. The station started its "drive-time" news format about five years ago and it has become a staple. But the rest of the format has changed several times. Days now are dominated by sex talk show radio host Don Chamberlain with his "California Girls" program. Evenings have a smattering of talk shows and other things.

KKHI 1550
Classical music

KLIV 1590
San Jose's answer to KFRC with a top 40 format, but slightly more subdued disc jockeys. This station plays reruns of city council meetings each Sunday morning at 7 p.m. But they only play as much as time allows.

Planners eye development

The continued public hearing on the application of Thomas Jackson and Jackson Homes for a zone change and plan approval comes before the Campbell Planning Commission at their Tuesday, December 5 meeting. Sessions start at 7:30 p.m. in the Council Chamber, 75 N. Central Ave.

Jackson plans to add 5 single family homes to an existing 2-unit development at 1428 and 1440 W. Hacienda Ave.

Also on the tentative agenda are plans for an industrial building at 355 McGlincey lane by Melvin R. Hill, a request for an adjustment to the sideyard setback requirement by Robert Nelson for a second story addition at 141 Bland ave. and a hearing on the application of Paul E. Fontaine and the Barnes-Fontaine Development Company for a zone change and approval of plans.

Fontaine seeks approval for four single family residences to an existing single family development at 1300 and 1310 Harriet Ave.

The third annual Cookie Recipe Exchange will be held starting at 7:30 p.m. at the 70 N. Central Ave. library.

Cookie recipes will be handed out during the program from those gathered in November and Peggy Baker will present a cookie demonstration.

Participants are asked to bring a sampling of cookies from their favorite recipe.

Planning commission split on zoning issue

The city owned property at 420 W. Campbell ave. should be rezoned medium density residential, the planning commission recommended last week on a 4-3 vote.

Opposed to the zoning proposal were Commissioners George Vierhus, George Kasolas and Carl Samuelson. The three said they felt the large parcel should be designated planned development.

Originally that property was purchased with bond funds to be used for a fire station. With latest plans however, calling for new stations near the Pruneyard and on the west side of town, the land was declared surplus.

In other action last week the commission:

- Approved the application of Jim Lyle and Pacific Design Group for approval of plans to add 12 apartment units to an existing 6-unit development at 150 W. Rincon ave.
- Recommended a zone change from commercial to medium density residential for property at 849 S. San Tomas Aquino road. Commissioners J. DuWayne Dickson and Dan Campos opposed the motion.
- Approved plans by Lewis Frayer for a 6-unit condominium at 3495 S. Bascom ave.
- Continued to December 19 the hearing on plans for a 14-unit apartment at 166 and 180 Shelley ave.
- Recommended approval of plans for two industrial buildings at 260, 270 and 272 Dillon ave. by applicant Larry Rudicel.
- Recommended approval of plans by Gilbert Dale Corona to convert part of a residence at 142 N. Central ave. into offices.
- Continued to December 5 the hearing on plans by Thomas D. Jackson and Jackson Homes for an addition of 5 single family homes to an existing 2-unit development at 1428 and 1440 W. Hacienda ave.
- Recommended that property at 386, 400 and 420 Union ave. remain zoned high density residential.

Oil and vinegar dressing (recipe follows).
1 cup sliced green onion (including some tops)
1 avocado, peeled, pitted, and diced.

If your children get lost, help them find you.
Just make sure they have your home phone number—by writing it on the inside of their pockets, shirt or dress.
That way, even if they forget the number, they'll always know where it is. And if they should get lost, someone will know how to reach you.
Of course, you'll lose a few minutes of your time teaching the kids your phone number.
But look at it this way: you won't lose the kids.

Olga

It's time for your 'master plan' Libra

Dec. 2 through Dec. 8

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Secrets are whispered — don't snitch. Overbearing character, who appears out-of-nowhere, can cause trouble. Don't take any sass, Ari. Instead, tell this dimwit to go soak his head in a bucket of swill — or words to that effect.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Satisfying demands of loved one will be major challenge. You may think that you've run out of answers, Taurus, but if you will check the bottom of your gunny sack you'll discover that you have one last trick. Use it.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): As challenge marches in the door, boredom floats out the window. You get proverbial "second chance." Don't bollix the deal. Long-range goals are highlighted. Stay alert, busy and off of the sauce.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Whoop-de-do week ahead, Moonbaby, with precious little time which you can call your own. However, you should plan to spend at least one evening quietly — perhaps with admirer. If dalliance is what you desire, dinner a deux will do it. Week ends on key of D for delightful.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Don't cling to that which is gone, Leo, for it is past, over, ended, concluded, settled and finito. Tomorrow holds a whole slew of goodies — know this and be glad. Week of soul-searching shimmies to a quiet close.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): In most matters, Virgo, you know how to get exactly what you want. However, after you get what you want you often discover (much to your dismay!) that it's not what you want after all. This week the shoe is on the other foot — the one you put in your mouth.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Concerning personal affair, this is the week to execute your "master plan." You won't lose, Libra, if you have positive approach and determination. Pisces person swims into view and reminds you (once again) that you really are "Libra the Lover."

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Desire strong to live life to the absolute hilt. Just don't think of this as a "last fling." No indeedy, you have many a fling still to be flung, Scorp. Honestly. Olga knows.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Contradictory forces pull you in opposite directions as ghost from past returns to haunt. Tussle with temptation ensues. You win. Loved one accepts you with all of your delightful complications. Week ends with a hug.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Get rid of cold facade, Cap. Accept one with sunny disposition who is willing to help in the melting process. Written word highlighted — read between the lines for secret message. Week filled with doubt ends on note of confidence.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): You've certainly had more than your share of ups and downs in this past year, Aquari, but this week it will be mostly ups — that is, if you're up to it. Odds are excellent that you will be — you usually are.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): Notes from the underground arrive with postage due. Cough up. One at a distance plays lead role in drama which unfolds. Busy week ends on note of optimism as flickering faith flames anew.

United way tops goal

THE UNITED Way of Santa Clara County has topped its campaign goal of $7,203,922.

R.A. Fuhrman, president, Lockheed Missiles and Space Co., and volunteer campaign chairman, announced Thursday evening that the campaign total for 1978 was $7,237,760.

Fuhrman said the total figure represents, not the 12 percent increase they were seeking, but a 13.5 percent increase over last year.

Fuhrman noted that the announced figure does include projections on a few campaigns still in progress as well as some businesses and individuals who traditionally wait until the end of the tax year before sending in their contributions.

During the coming months, more than 100 United Way allocations volunteers will spend an estimated 4,000 hours studying agency budgets and programs in order to determine how dollars should be allocated for the 1978-79 funding year.

The United Way of Santa Clara County currently funds 83 human care agencies which provide a wide range of services in the community, including programs for seniors, youth guidance programs, disaster and safety services.

Del Mar ends season

IN THE WORDS of Del Mar head coach Ron Leimbach, "It was a very long season."

And that very long season came to a very disappointing end last Thursday afternoon at Camden high school when the Dons suffered a 24-22 loss at the hands of the host Cougars.

"The game was typical of our whole season," said Leimbach. "Everything that could go wrong, went wrong — Murphy's Law. That's the way it's been all year."

The loss pulled the Dons into a last place tie with the Cougars, both teams finishing the year with 2-6 West Valley Athletic League records. Both the Dons and Cougars also wound up with the same 2-8 overall marks.

Things didn't start out quite so badly for the Dons last Thursday.

After trailing 2-0 at the end of the first period, the Dons rallied to go ahead 15-2 midway through the third quarter and appeared to be well on their way to their third win of the season.

BUT THE COUGARS had other ideas and came back to take an 18-15 lead on the strength of an eight yard touchdown run by Ron Azevedo, a recovered fumble in the Dons' endzone by John Brazda and a pair of two point conversion passes.

The Dons regained the lead late in the fourth quarter when junior quarterback Bruce Prothro fired a 12 yard touchdown pass to Chris Duncan.

Prothro, who also booted a pair of extra points on the day, completed 14 of 24 passes for 140 yards. Duncan caught six of those passes for 63 yards while Kendall Hansen caught three for 34 yards.

But Camden wouldn't be denied. With 3:30 to go in the game, Jeff Walsh unloaded a 50 yard touchdown bomb to Phil Zlendick, erasing the Dons' 22-18 lead.

Camden had scored first in the game when a Del Mar snap from center on a punt attempt went out of the endzone for a safety.

Del Mar tied the contest in the second period on a similar safety and then took the lead on a 22 years TD hook-up between Prothro and Hansen.

The Dons improved their lead to 15-2 early in the third quarter when Prothro capped a drive by plunging into the endzone from a yard out.

on the hot corner

by dick sparrer

MANY OF US have just finished gobbling up the last of the Halloween candy, and most of us are still nibbling at the drumsticks of the Thanksgiving turkey.

But don't be confused by the traditions of the holidays of Autumn. Because even though the leaves on the trees are still a burning orange and footballs are still flying through the air, it's not just the fall season of the year — it's also the Christmas season!

The bruises from the traditional Thanksgiving Day football games are still fresh, and so is the half-eaten pumpkin pie, but the turkey and pilgrim cut-outs in the front window now have to make room for Santa Claus and Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer!

'Tis the season to be jolly, and it also 'tis the season to fight those holiday crowds to find just the right thing for that man or woman on your list who has everything.

Santa Claus, his time of year.

Remember — there are only 26 shopping days left 'til Christmas. And you know that the longer you wait to do that last minute shopping at your favorite store, the inventory will be shrinking while the crowds will be growing.

Need some Christmas shopping help? No, I'm not going to fight the crowds for you at Vallco or Oak Ridge — but I do have some ideas that might make Christmas shopping a little easier.

No, and I can't give you any ideas of what to buy the Aunt Gertrude on your shopping list — lilac soap and stationery aren't exactly down my alley.

But I do have some gift ideas for the sports enthusiast in your life — some ideas that could make Christmas shopping a little easier for you, and Christmas a little special for him or her (are you paying attention Randee?).

Why is it that the sports fan on your shopping list always seems to be the hardest person to please. I mean, a person can just use so many towels for the golf bag and wrist bands for tennis!

Well, here are a few hints that have crossed my mind that could make Christmas shopping a kick.

We all seem to have a skier, or would-be skier, on our shopping list, so how about enrolling that snow enthusiast in John Clendenin's Revolving Mountain Ski School in Cupertino. They have classes for everyone from experts to those who have never even stepped foot in snow before. The cost is $118.50 for the beginner's class. For more information on any of the classes call Clendenin at 252-0125.

Have an auto racing enthusiast on that list? How about enrolling the lead-foot in the Sports Car Club of America's road racing driver's school to be held at the Sears Point Raceway on March 3-4 and 17-18. The course will begin with classroom lectures in January and February and students must provide their own cars, prepared to SCCA safety standards. The cost is $175 for applications received before Dec. 31 and $200 after that. For information call (415) 775-1010.

Dad a little out of shape? Why don't you kids get together and buy him a racquet, a ball and a membership in one of the many athletic clubs in the area that features the great sport of racquetball. Take a look in the yellow pages to find the listings for all of the local outlets.

Have a baseball fan or enthusiast on that holiday list? Oh my, I have a few ideas for that one!

For the young baseball player, how about enrolling him in the third annual Christmas Baseball Camp to run Dec. 27-30 at San Jose City College. The camp will feature instructors from Major League Baseball, including San Francisco Giant catcher Marc Hill. The cost for the four day course is $79 and further information can be obtained by calling (415) 799-3166 daily from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m.

For the older baseball fan there's nothing better than a couple of season tickets for the Giant's 1979 home season. Or how about a membership in the SF Giants Boosters Club of Northern California. For information on Giant's tickets call (415) 467-8000 and for info on the Boosters call (415) 456-6633.

Baseball cards from the past make a unique gift. Try to locate the card for each year your "fan's" favorite ballplayer was in the Majors. That's not an easy task — but possible.

And here are some quick and easy stocking stuffers: a roll of quarters to use in the light machines at the local tennis courts; a gift certificate for a bucket of balls at the local driving range; a season's supply of bubble gum or sunflower seeds for the baseball or softball player in your life; tickets for the AMA Supercross Moto-cross set for Jan. 28 at the Oakland Coliseum (call 438-3210); tickets for the Avon Tennis Championships of California on Jan. 8-14 at the Coliseum (call 415-635-7800); tickets for a Warrior game; or how about a golf tournament for your gift-getter and 19 of his or her friends — they pay the green fees and you set up the tournament at a local golf course and a dinner to follow.

There are many, many ideas for the sports fans. And some that could save hours of walking through crowded department stores.

So help save a plaid necktie or a ceramic ash tray from a life long existence in a dark closet. Get that sports fan something he or she can use and have a real athletic Christmas.

Menlo-Atherton churns to CCS girls swimming championship

MENLO-ATHERTON finished first in only one event and second in only one other. But M-A's depth proved to be too much for the rest of the field as it went on to capture the Central Coast Section girls swimming championship in relatively easy fashion recently at Gunderson high school.

Menlo-Atherton finished the meet with a total of 159 points, easily outdistancing the second place Los Altos Knights, who wound up with 114 points. The Buchser Bruins came in third with 111 points.

Los Altos captured the most first places (three) and had six placers altogether. M-A had eight placers and Buchser five.

Menlo-Atherton's lone victory came in the 200 medley relay, establishing a new record with a time of 1:53.0. It was one of seven records to fall in the meet and one of four marks owned by Homestead swimmers to be erased.

Live Oak's brilliant Kelly Asplund broke both of her 1977 records in the 50 free and 100 free with times of respective times of 23.5 and 52.0.

LOS ALTOS broke a pair of records formerly held by Homestead as the 400 free relay team sped to a first in a time of 3:39 while Jody Alexander triumphed in the 100 fly in a time of 57.9. April Swanson previously held the fly mark with a time of 58.49.

In addition to her victory in the 100 fly, Alexander also posted a first in the 200 IM (2:09.2) to pace Los Altos' runner-up performance.

Margie MacFarlane was a double placer for the Knights also, finishing third in the 100 free (54.0) and fourth in the 200 free (1:54.6).

Nancy Stauffer bagged a sixth for the Knights in the 200 IM (2:16.9).

Holidae Vig's first place effort in the 100 back (1:00) sparked Buchser to its third place showing.

Collecting thirds for the Bruins were Tracy Spaulding in the 200 free (1:54.5) and Lillian Carter in the 100 breast (1:09.1).

BUCHSER'S 200 medley relay team churned to a second (1:53.4) while its 400 free relay team swam to a fourth (3:42.2).

Homestead and Lynbrook had six placers apiece.

Judy Scovel paced a strong Lynbrook performance by copping seconds in both the 200 free (1:52.7) and 100 free (53.0).

Amy Schlegel captured a third in the 500 free (5:06.1), Kristy Anderson copped a fourth in the 500 (5:09.3) and Ann Schlegel took a fifth in the 100 fly (1:00.7). The Vikings' 200 medley relay team took a fifth (1:56.3).

Jean Moranda spearheaded the Mustangs' effort with a second in the 100 fly (59.0) and a third in the 100 back (1:02.8).

Lynn Baker nabbed a fourth in the 200 IM (2:13.3) and a fifth in the 100 free (54.4) while Sarah Hutchinson captured a sixth in the 200 free (1:58.3).

Homestead's 400 free relay team copped a third (3:40.9).

LELAND HAD five placers in the tournament, thanks largely to the efforts of Diann Christianson and Debbie Blue.

Christianson swam to fourths in the 50 free (24.9) and 100 fly (1:00.5) while Blue took a fifth in the 50 free (24.9) and a sixth in the 100 free (55.1).

The Chargers' 400 free relay team swam to a second (3:39.6).

Monta Vista's Eve Walton turned in an excellent individual effort with seconds in the 100 breast (1:09.0) and 200 IM (2:09.4).

Branham's Laurie Martin was also a double placer, finishing third in the 50 free (24.8) and fourth in the 100 free (54.3).

Fremont had a pair of placers, Elizabeth Hill finishing second in the 100 back (1:00.6) and Jackie Heeney coming in fourth in the 100 breast (1:09.5).

Other individual placers included Leigh's Cindy Trimball, who came in fifth in the 100 back (1:03.7), Del Mar's Valerie Young, who came in sixth in the 500 free (5:17.4) and Silver Creek's Kim Harvey, who came in sixth in the 500 free (24.9).

Del Mar's 400 free relay team finished sixth (3:46.6) while Silver Creek's 200 medley relay team also came in sixth (2:01.9).

Warriors breeze past Longhorns

By RANDY FREY

EMOTIONS WERE SKY high Thanksgiving Day when Leigh and Westmont got together for a friendly little game of football.

The only thing higher at Leigh's sunken field were the rushing totals of Westmont's Perry Lunt, who burned the Longhorn's defense for 105 yards and two touchdowns in the first half.

And with Westmont's defense keeping the Longhorns in check most of the day, emotion turned to frustration late in the second period resulting in a bench-clearing, knock down drag out brawl which was halted only by the quick actions of both coaching staffs.

It's ironic, because traditionally the coaches from Leigh and Westmont share Thanksgiving breakfast prior to the game and occasionally a Thanksgiving Dinner.

But there has never been any lost love between the two football teams, who have engaged in hard-hitting season-ending games for 15 years now.

Westmont, led by Lunt's 158 yards and three touchdowns, turned back the Longhorns 21-2 for the Warriors sixth win in the series. Leigh has won nine times.

"It's a good way to end the season," said a happy Westmont coach Don Stagnaro, who had to be particularly pleased with the play of his defense.

The Warriors intercepted four Mark Mena passes and held Leigh on downs five times, three times inside the 15-yard line.

LATE IN THE first half Leigh marched down to the Westmont 13-yard line when Mena dropped back to pass and intentionally threw the ball out of bounds to stop the clock with 15 second to go. He had forgotten, however, that it was fourth down, and Westmont took over.

In the third quarter Leigh drove 72 yards in six plays to the Westmont one-yard line but failed three times to put the ball in the endzone and Westmont held again.

On the next play, however, Westmont quarterback Mike Grado was sacked in the endzone by Tim Sodenan for Leigh's only two points of the game.

Leigh then took the free kick and drove right back to the Westmont 31, but again the Warriors held on downs.

Twice in the fourth quarter Westmont held on a fourth down play, once on their own 10-yard line.

"I was especially pleased with the play of the defensive line," said Stagnaro. He singled out lineman Greg Gorman, Ken Pappa, Matt Gregory and Bob Hatzenpillar as having played outstanding games.

Westmont scored first early in the second period when Lunt raced in from six yards out to cap a 36-yard drive. He carried six times on the drive for 29 yards.

Dan Finn intercepted a Mena pass on first down to give the ball right back to Westmont, and nine plays later the Warriors had a 14-0 lead.

THE BIG PLAY on the drive was a 20-yard pass from Grado to Steve Moore which moved the ball to the 25-yard line.

Another pass to Moore went incomplete, but pass interference was called, moving the ball to the 10-yard line. Three Lunt running plays later Westmont was in the endzone.

The Warriors then took the second half kick and marched 70 yards in nine plays, Lunt covering the final 16 on a pitchout.

Leigh tried to get back in the game, Kevin Kevorkian carrying twice for 59 yards on the next drive before it stalled out on the one-yard line.

Mena began to move the ball in the air in the final period, but two drives were halted when Todd Devlin picked off passes deep in Westmont territory. Devlin ended the day with three thefts.

The win upped Westmont's West Valley Athletic League record to 6-2, tied with Branham for second place. The Warriors were 6-4 overall.

For Leigh it was not as good a year, the Longhorns falling to 3-4-1 in WVAL play, 3-6-1 overall.

After the game, Stagnaro could not help but look back to the game with Los Gatos, a game which the Warriors let slip away in the final minutes.

"IF EVER I HAD a game to go back on it would be the Los Gatos game," he said.

Had the Warriors held on to win that one it would have been Westmont, not Los Gatos, which would have represented the WVAL in the Central Coast Section playoffs.

But now Westmont will just have to look towards next year, although only nine players will be returning from this year's varsity squad.

There is a glimmer of hope, though, because Westmont was the WVAL junior varsity co-champion along with Los Gatos.

Leigh will have 14 players returning in 1979, a year in which coach Bill Holland hopes his Longhorns will turn it around and get back on the winning track.

One bright note for Leigh will be the return of Kevorkian, who was the Longhorns leading ballcarrier in 1978. He rushed for 91 yards on 12 carries Thursday.

Rick McDiarmid had 31 yards on 10 carries for Leigh and Manuel Gandarilla had 25 yards on seven carries for Westmont.

Grado completed five of 18 passes for 59 yards in his final game in a Westmont uniform while Mena hit on nine of 21 attempts for 74 yards. Mena, however, had four passes picked off.

Moore caught three passes for 46 yards to lead the Westmont receiving corps while Kevorkian hauled in five passes for 29 yards. Ron Edwards caught three for 33 yards.

Westmont had 257 yards in total offense to Leigh's 182. Another big story in the game was 90 yards in penalties against Leigh. The yellow flag was tossed against the Longhorns 11 times.

Teams must have at least 60 percent of their players living or working in Campbell. There is a $15 team registration fee.

For further information call Mark McCarroll at 378-8141.

Giant Boosters kit available

THE SAN Francisco Giants almost did it in 1978, and according to Giants Boosters Club President Allan B. Murray "the Giants will take the Series in '79."

"And the Giants Boosters will help them do it," he insists. "We've each discovered the formula in '78. All we have to do is perfect it in '79."

He said the Boosters formula is heavy team support, demonstrated by attending home games as well as away games. During the off season the Boosters chip in with rallies, dinners and other public demonstrations of support.

This winter the Boosters will once again hold the annual Hot Stove League Dinners. Come spring they will travel to Phoenix to watch training and Cactus League games.

Revenge-seeking Tigers ready for Holiday Bowl

HOLIDAY BOWL I went down as one of the hardest hitting football games played locally in years.

Now time for Holiday Bowl II, it should be every bit as touch a game.

A year ago, four players were ejected from the game for fighting as the Tacoma Washington Pierce County Bengals beat the San Jose Tigers.

San Jose has not lost a game since, and the Tigers will have revenge in their eyes when they take the Field Dec. 10 at Spartan Stadium.

The Bengals will be bringing in a team which has been together for six years. They have won five league championships playing in the Northwest International League.

In six years Pierce County has put together winning streaks of 25 and 32 games, and they have lost games only in 1973, 1975 and this year.

San Jose is in its second year of play, having run up a record of 28-1 in two years. The Tigers capped another perfect regular season by defeating Shreveport, La. 32-6 in the south.

Shreveport was formerly rated the No. 1 team in the country, having won the powerful American Association League title. San Jose is now ranked No. 1 among minor league football teams.

Two NFL teams have been talking to San Jose players recently, and representatives of the Dallas Cowboys and San Diego Chargers will be present at the Holiday Bowl along with scouts from other NFL teams.

Leading the San Jose charge will be quarterback Craig Kimball and receiver Eric Dahl. Kimball has thrown a touchdown pass in each of San Jose's 29 gAmes and Dahl has caught 56 passes for 1,120 yards and 16 touchdowns this season.

Leading the defensive charge will be linebacker Ron Collins, a 6-foot-1, 245 pounder out of San Jose State University.

Kicker Lou Rodriguez, also out of San Jose State, has booted 14 out of 18 field goals in the 14 Tiger games this season.

His longest field goal was 49 yards, and he has converted 40 out of 43 extra points.

Tickets for Holiday Bowl II are priced at $5 for adults and $3 for youth 18 and under. Tickets are on sale at the Tiger office, 1101 S. Winchester Blvd. or at most major ticket outlets.

Buchser mat tourney set

THE BUCHSER dual meet wrestling tournament will get underway at 9:30 a.m. Saturday in the Buchser gymnasium.

Defending champion Watsonville will be one of the 16 high schools on hand for the all-day meet. Hotver, meet officials have selected San Lorenzo as the tournament's No. 1 seed.

First round pairings have San Lorenzo meeting Pioneer, Gunn meeting Live Oak, Santa Teresa wrestling Lincoln, Watsonville wrestling Leigh, Sunnyvale challenging James Lick, Oak Grove facing Crestmoor, Westmont wrestling Salinas and Fremont meeting Buchser.

Team trophies for the first five teams and an individual award for the most pins will be awarded following the tournament.

Admission to the tourney is $2 for the entire day or $1.50 for a half day or night ticket.

Finals are set for 7:30 p.m.

TRADITION ENDS — Thanksgiving Day is a traditional holiday in the United States, but tradition was altered a bit in Campbell this past Turkey Day. For most of the last 50 years, the football team at Campbell high has spent Thanksgiving morning on the gridiron opposing Los Gatos in their traditional rivalry. But this past Thanksgiving Day the only football the Bucs saw was on television. Because the Wildcats won the West Valley Athletic League title and were advancing to the Central Coast Section play-offs, the game had to be moved up a week. Bob Greisinger (9) huddles up the Bucs under the lights at Helm Field in Los Gatos in the first-ever night game between the two schools. The Wildcats won the game 22-9, but lost in the first round of the CCS play-offs 34-29 to Oak Grove last Friday. And both Campbell and Los Gatos lost a little bit of tradition!

Top girl's volleyball teams go for CCS title at Creek

THE BEST GIRL'S volleyball teams the Central Coast has to offer will be in competition this week on courts all over the Section trying to win berths in this weekend's CCS championships to be played on the Andrew Hill and Silver Creek high school floors.

The CCS volleyball play-offs will begin on Friday at Hill and Silver Creek with the final round set for Creek on Saturday. The championship game will begin at 7 p.m. on Saturday at SC.

The admission cost for the CCS event will be $2 for adults and $1 for students and the prices will be the same earlier in the week at regional tournaments.

Titles in Regions I, II, III and IV will be decided on Tuesday and Wednesday on courts all over the area.

In first round action in Region I at Serramonte high school, Mills of the Mid-Peninsula League will meet the North Peninsula League champ at 6 p.m. and Presentation of the Girl's Private School League will take on Los Altos of the Santa Clara Valley Athletic League at 8 p.m. Los Altos is an at-large team in the play-offs. The winners of the Region I games will meet Wednesday.

IN THE REGION II at Carlmont Tuesday, Fremont of the De Anza Athletic League will face Awalt of the SCVAL at 6 p.m. and Sequoias of the South Peninsula Athletic League will meet Santa Teresa of the Mt. Hamilton Athletic League, another at-large team, at 8 p.m. The Region II champ will also be decided Wednesday.

At Yerba Buena on Tuesday, Live Oak of the Santa Teresa Athletic League and Blackford of the West Valley Athletic League will collide at 6 p.m. and Ayer of the MHAL will face St. Francis of the SCVAL at 8 p.m. in Region III action. St. Francis, another at-large team, is the defending CCS champion. The winners will meet Wednesday at 7 p.m.

In the Region IV at Notre Dame in Salinas, Salinas of the Monterey Bay League will battle Harbor of the Santa Cruz County Athletic League and Hollister of the Mission Trails Athletic League will face San Jose Christian in 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. games, respectively. The winners will also meet on Wednesday.

The top two teams from each region will advance to the CCS event this weekend.

Bronc cagers to test UCLA five

LOCAL BASKETBALL fans will get a good idea of just how good the 1978-79 Santa Clara University basketball team really is when the Broncos play Stanford and UCLA later this week.

Santa Clara will visit Stanford's Pauley Pavilion Thursday and then head south to UCLA Saturday.

"This could be the best young team I have ever coached," said SCU coach Carroll Williams of his 1978-79 squad.

Young is right. The Broncos have only four seniors on the roster, and none are expected to start this season.

Junior Kurt Rambis of Cupertino High and sophomore Ted Whittington are expected to start at forward with sophomore Mark McNamara of Del Mar high school at center. Junior Londale Theus and sophomore Marshall Grimes of Overfelt should be the starting guards.

And Santa Clara has plenty of depth as well. Backing up at forward are senior Myrt Easley, junior Gary Carpenter, sophomore Steve Wallace and freshman Kelvin Bowers.

Seniors Korky Nelson out of Oak Grove and Mark Bruening of Del Mar back up at center and sophomore John Kovaleski of Mitty and freshman Lance Jackson will back up at guard.

Santa Clara, despite its 8-6 league finish a year ago, should be a contender for the WCAC championship along with USF, Nevada-Reno, University of Portland and Seattle University.

Soccer clinic

THE San Jose Jewish Community Center will hold a soccer clinic Tuesday, Dec. 5 at 4:30 p.m. at the Jewish Community Center, 2300 Canoas Garden Road in San Jose.

Kevin Handlan, a standout American midfielder and member of the San Jose Earthquakes, and Doug Wark, another American member of the Earthquakes, will be available to talk and sign autographs.

After the clinic there will be sign-ups for a youth soccer program sponsored by the Jewish Community Center.

For more information on the clinic, call the center at 266-6317.

Quakes bolster front office under Reichmuth

THE SAN Jose Earthquakes' front office is currently gearing up for the 1979 campaign and general manager Ben Reichmuth has bolstered several positions within the club.

Tom Mertens, an original member of the Quakes' front office since 1974 as Director of Public Relations, has been named the Assistant General Manager. He will be primarily charged with team and franchise operations under Reichmuth.

Gene Fasano, a longtime youth soccer enthusiast and business executive from San Jose, has been named Marketing and Promotions Consultant for the Earthquakes.

Taking over as Director of Public Relations is Quakes veteran Steve Des Georges, who first joined the San Jose club in 1976 and was previously the Earthquakes Community Relations Director.

A newcomer in charge of group sales is Joe Lynch. Lynch served with the New England Tea Mean of the NASL in the same capacity.

The man behind those catchy musical commercials is an ad prof at SJSU

By JOHN McLAIN

If you "Walk On Over to Wyler's" to wash down your "One-A-Day Vitamin," chances are a San Jose State University advertising professor has helped you decide to pick those products.

Not only has SJSU newcomer Neil Stewart dreamed up those musical ditties, but the assistant professor has had a hand in putting "Libby's, Libby's, Libby's" and "Me and My RC" in your mind and on your table as well.

But don't say "jingles" to the native Detroiter-turned-San Josean, who since 1975 has owned and operated Music City Inc., a Chicago-based company that turns out musical commercials with a Country-Western twang.

"The term 'jingle' sounds hokey to me. I like to say 'musical commercial'," said Stewart, who has a potent branch-office now in Nashville and is currently eyeing San Jose for a potential third Music City Inc. outlet.

"There's something 'country' about San Jose," said Stewart. "I've already found a lot of good pickers and singers here. Besides, the opportunity for me is that I can make commercials here for less money.

"In San Jose, I can rent a 24-track studio for $45 an hour, and can get a 4-piece rhythm section for $135 for two hours. In chicago, the studio would cost $150 and the band would cost three times as much, or about $400."

Neil Stewart

Stewart, now imparting his commercial skills to advertising majors at SJSU, already has tapped some student talent to help him put together a commercial.

Mark Loebs, a former psychiatric technician now studying psychology and advertising, played rhythm guitar and helped polish the melody for a commercial Stewart wrote for The Peanut Shack, a North Carolina franchise.

Stewart, who earned a journalism degree at the University of Oklahoma and later got his master's in English literature at Chicago's Loyola University, worked about eight years in the Northeast as a marketing and ad man before turning to creative music for fun and profit.

Recently he did commercials for Franzia wines and Magic Pan Restaurants. Other accounts include a jingle for Coke, Libby's and RC Cola.

Stewart, who knocks out the lyrics and melodies, then hires musicians and singers to perform them, believes Country-Western is an ideal format for commercials.

"In my opinion, jazz, rock and disco are difficult for commercials because of the beat." he said. "Country-Western people are oriented to simple music and simple melodies. To me, that's what makes a good commercial."

Stewart, who staffs his Chicago and Nashville offices with one person each, says that despite his success he still can't read music; nor does he seem to mind. "I'm not a skilled musician, but I can write melodies and lyrics. In fact, in Nashville, musicians never go to work there until they can do it by ear. It gives you a spontaneous kind of session.

"I can walk into a Nashville studio and just hum a few bars and the pickers and singers take it from there. Even the big names, like Tammy Wynette and Dolly Parton, work this way."

Now fairly occupied as a professor, Stewart concedes that teaching isn't quite the cakewalk he'd envisioned. "Education has changed a lot in the last 20 years," he said. "The concept of the instructor being in control is a bit outmoded. Students have a bit more power today, and they know how to use it. You have to be very diplomatic."

Some of his colleagues in advertising back East also have a misperception of Stewart the professor.

"All my Chicago friends think I've dropped out or retired and am now walking around with a pipe in my mouth on campus." But, he added, things are looking up. "I knew I was making progress as a teacher when I discovered that some student had immortalized me on a men's room wall. But he didn't spell my name right."
